Dear Mr. Evans:

On August 2, 2010 the Professional Responsibility Branch (PRB) received a notice from the Office of the Staff Judge Advocate, U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Division Command (CIDC) concerning allegations of professional misconduct made against your client, Ms. Lisa Kreeger-Norman in the course of her civilian employment as an Attorney-Advisor with the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Laboratory, CIDC. PRB reviewed the matter and in accordance with Army Regulation 27-1, Judge Advocate Legal Services, paragraph 7-5, I conclude that there is no credible evidence that Ms. Kreeger-Norman violated any Army Rule of Professional Conduct for Lawyers.

Accordingly, you are advised that we have closed the case and will take no further action concerning this matter. As required by regulation and policy, this office will maintain the case file for three years, at which time it will be destroyed. Ms. Kreeger-Norman should be aware that she may be required to release information concerning this inquiry in the course of applying for bar membership or Federal employment. In such cases, she should review carefully the questions posed in the application material as she may be required to respond affirmatively if asked whether her fitness to practice law or conduct as an attorney has ever been challenged in any jurisdiction. If Ms. Kreeger-Norman is asked to identify allegations of professional misconduct lodged against her, she may state that these particular allegations were determined to be lacking in merit based upon a lack of credible evidence, or she may refer the requester to this office for an official response. Although this office will not notify Ms. Kreeger-Norman's State bar regarding this matter, it is incumbent upon her to determine whether she has a self-reporting requirement with her State bar regarding either the allegations or the inquiry.

If you have any questions, you may call me at (703) 588-6754 (DSN 425), send a fax to (703) 588-0151 (DSN 425), or e-mail me at mark.rivest@conus.army.mil.
